PART 1

Alice, a curious young girl with fair skin and golden curls, was sitting by a tree.

She looked bored.

Suddenly, she spotted a White Rabbit, a small rabbit with large, anxious eyes and a smart jacket.

The Rabbit looked worried as he checked his pocket watch before jumping into a hole.

Curious, Alice followed him.

I'm late! I'm late!

Following the White Rabbit, Alice started to run, faster and faster, until the floor disappeared under her feet.

In Wonderland, Alice found a tiny door. It was too small for her to go in. She discovered a key on a glass table. The key opened the door, but Alice was still too big.

Then, she saw a bottle with the words "Drink me". Alice, with her rosy cheeks and curious eyes, drank from the bottle.

She began to get smaller and smaller until she was small enough to fit through the door.

Alice entered a beautiful garden with colorful flowers and strange creatures.

The flowers were bright and seemed to dance in the wind. Butterflies with shiny wings flew around. There were talking birds and playful animals.

Everything felt magical, and Alice was amazed by all the wonders around her.

PART 2

In the garden, Alice found an unusual tea party.

The Mad Hatter, a tall, thin man with wild orange hair and a big, strange smile, welcomed her excitedly.

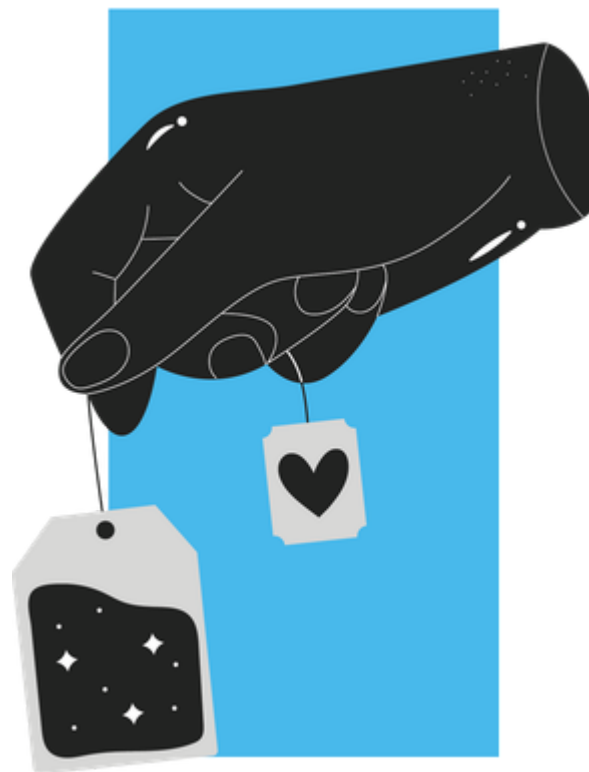

Next to him sat the March Hare, who looked just as strange with his always-excited eyes.

The Mad Hatter poured tea from an upside-down teapot while Alice, with her curious expression, joined in the festivities.

They sang songs and told riddles, their laughter filling the air.

Alice fell down a long tunnel, surrounded by floating books, maps, and jars. At the end, she landed softly on the ground.

Despite the fun, Alice found the tea party too chaotic. She decided to move away and walk deeper into Wonderland.

PART 3

As Alice arrived into the forest, she met the enigmatic Cheshire Cat, a purple-striped cat with a creepy smile. He was sitting in a tree and staring at Alice with his yellow, sparkling eyes.

The Cheshire Cat, with his disappearing trick, offered mysterious advice to Alice. She listened carefully, with her expression a mix of curiosity and wonder.

PART 4

As Alice kept going, she found a peaceful place. Sitting on a mushroom, there was a Caterpillar. It looked calm and thoughtful, unlike the rest of Wonderland, which was full of fun and magic.

Alice went closer to the Caterpillar, curious about what it had to say.

The Caterpillar talked slowly and thoughtfully, giving Alice advice and deep thoughts to help her in Wonderland. She listened carefully.

PART 5

In the heart of Wonderland, after hours of exploration, Alice reached the heart of Wonderland and found herself in the presence of the Queen of Hearts.

Standing tall above everyone else, the Queen looked very powerful. Her serious face and fancy clothes with heart shapes showed that she was in charge.

Alice watched as the Queen played a fancy game of croquet.
She used real flamingos as hammers and hedgehogs as balls.

The Queen's loud voice filled the garden as she told everyone what to do, looking very serious and expecting everyone to listen.

PART 6

But the fancy stay at the Queen's court suddenly took a strange direction for Alice. She got caught up in a trial.

The Knave of Hearts was accused of taking tarts, and Alice had to talk about what she knew. She looked determined and confident as she walked up to tell what really happened.

When Alice tried to speak up in court, the Queen's loud voice made it hard to hear her.

The Queen looked very serious and raised her scepter.

Off with her head!

But Alice didn't back down. She looked strong and determined, refusing to be scared or pushed around.

Suddenly, Alice felt something strange happening to her.

Everyone watched in shock as she started getting taller and taller until she was much bigger than everyone else in the courtroom.

The Queen's soldiers ran away scared, but Alice stood tall and strong, showing that she wasn't afraid anymore.

Just like that, Alice's adventure was over. She woke up suddenly by the tree where everything started.

Memories of her amazing journey stayed with her, reminding her of all the incredible things she experienced in Wonderland.

Plural Words is a European project that started in October 2023. It is co-funded by the Erasmus+ Programme of the European Commission to support school education.

The project aims to make learning and using Augmentative and Alternative Communication (AAC) easier for young children in early childhood and primary schools. With creative tools and visual aids, Plural Words helps all students communicate, learn, and be included, ensuring equal opportunities for everyone.
